

Call for Applications

AMSA National Leadership Development Seminar 2014 Convenor

The AMSA National Leadership Development Seminar is held annually in Canberra. The position of NLDS convenor is open to any medical student from around Australia and provides an exciting opportunity to develop and shape this 3-day event

We are now seeking applications for the position of the 2014 NLDS Convenor. Following the selection of a convenor, applications will be opened for the remaining positions on the NLDS event team as listed below:

- Academic Convenor
- Treasurer
- Sponsorship Officer
- Two Logistics Officers

Application Process

The deadline for applications is 5pm, Sunday 25th August 2013.

The application process will consist of:

1. Written application (maximum 5 pages PDF)
2. Phone Interview

Your written application should address the following points:

- Why you would like to be the 2014 NLDS Convenor
- Your vision for NLDS, outline in particular:
 - What you see as the purpose of a leadership themed conference
 - How you will create an engaging and motivational academic program without being cost-prohibitive
 - Outline a plan for sponsorship and ensure continued funding from universities and MedSocs taking into account the size and distinctive features of NLDS
- CV outlining previous experiences that will help you to be an effective team leader and event coordinator

If you are interested in this role of NLDS Convenor, please contact the AMSA Events Coordinator. Eliza Wziontek events@amsa.org.au
